Remember Miss Alice

Artist Alice Moseley, in a favorite shot taken by her son Tim. Moseley passed away last summer at age 94, but her art lives on at the Alice Moseley Folk Art and Antique Museum located in her little blue house on Bookter St. in Bay St. Louis.

Herman, Miss Alice's beloved pet dog still works at the museum, doing what he loves most of all, posing for pictures.

Famed folk artist's legacy lives on in BSL

Artist Alice Moseley passed away this summer, likely going to "folks heaven," some people like to say, the place she portrayed in one of her favorite paintings. But though Miss Alice may be gone, her art lives on and is available for everyone to see at the same little blue house where she lived on Bookter St. Alice's home is A Waveland resident is included in five suspects in a Federal indictment returned Dec. 16, by the United States Department of Justice U.S. Attorney, Eastern District of Louisiana.

In a news release from Jim Letten, United States Attorney, the indictment charges Dwight Wilson, 52, of Waveland; Calvin Rankin, Jr., 44, of Harvey, LA; David Carter, 47, of Marrero; Calvin Bohanna, 35, of Pearl River, LA; and Corey A. Brumfield, 25, of St. Rose, LA; with conspiracy to distribute cocaine and crack cocaine.

According to the indictments, conspirators were responsible for the distribution of between 50 and 150 kilograms of cocaine between May, 2004 and December 2004 and in excess of 1.5 kilograms of crack cocaine.

Friday morning all five defendants were arrested by FBI Special Agents in conjunction with Task Force Officers from the New Orleans Police Department, and the Jefferson and St. Tammany Parish Sheriffs' Offices.

If convicted on the conspiracy to distribute cocaine and cocaine base (crack), count, each defendant faces a minimum

Hancock Medical Center hosts blood drive

THE SEA COAST ECHO

You know how busy everyone is at this time of year, but did you know that every two seconds, someone will need blood to survive during this holiday season? While most of us are celebrating the holidays with family and friends, other families will spend Christmastime in a hospital watching a loved one suffer after an accident, require emergency surgery, battle their cancer, leukemia, sickle cell anemia or recover from complications after delivering a baby.

The employees at Hancock Medical Center routinely witness the need for Red Cross blood and how it can mean the difference between life and death for their patients, even during the holidays. To help the American Red Cross keep blood supplies from reaching life-threatening levels by early January, the employees are hosting a holiday blood drive on Wednesday, Dec. 22 from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The hours have been extended to make it more convenient for blood donors from the community, and second-shift hospital workers to donate before Christmas. The Red Cross bus will be located at the front hospital entrance on Drinkwater Blvd. in Bay St. Louis. All donors will receive a free holiday t-shirt and a coupon courtesy of Sicily's Ultimate Italian Buffet.

To donate blood, you must be at least 17 years of age, weigh 110 pounds or more, have not donated blood in the past 56 days and be in good health. There is no upper age limit for giving blood. For more information about donating blood, please call the American Red Cross at 896-2217.

Shoreline resident accused of molestation

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A Shoreline Park residents faces alleged molestation charges involving a 15-year-old-girl, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Investigator Tom Roan, who is handling the investigation on a complaint filed by the mother of the young girl filed at the sheriff's office on Nov. 17, said, "Bob Moser, 32, of Shoreline Park was arrested without incident at his residence on Dec. 15, on one count of alleged molestation involving a 15-year-old-girl."

"My initial investigation revealed the alleged molestation took place at Moser's residence when his wife was not at home. Moser and his wife had baby-sat the young girl in the past. It was also alleged the incident occurred when two younger brothers of the girl were outside of the suspect's residence," Roan added.

A warrant for Moser's arrest was issued on Dec. 9. He was arrested by Deputy Todd Drummond and placed in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility, where his bond was fixed at $25,000, which he has since posted, Roan said.

Firetower Rd. home destroyed by blaze

BY JOHN WATERMAN

Staff Writer

A fire destroyed a home at 8122 Firetower Road early Friday morning.

According to Brian Adam, chief of the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency, four fire trucks from the Kiln, Lee Town, Fenton and Post 158 Fire Departments responded to the call at 4:24 a.m.

Adam said the house was a total loss, but congratulated firemen for saving as much of the property as they could.

There was a lot of damage to the house but because of the way it was burnt, a lot of the items were still salvageable," Adam said. "The firemen did an excellent job."

There was no damage to surrounding properties, and no one was hurt in the blaze. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

In the Basket

DuPont deLisle employees, who are members of the plant's diversity networks, load food-stuffs into baskets that go to needy families in the community for Christmas each year. The diversity networks hold fund-raisers throughout the year to fund their annual Thanksgiving and Christmas food basket distribution as well as other activities that address community needs. DuPont employees also conduct an annual Toy Drive for needy children in the Harrison and Hancock county areas. Shown from left to right are Linda Bernard, Karen Seiter, Paul Francis, Kim Riley and Bo Fletcher. In the background at left is Willie Mitchell.

Man on bond faces more drug charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Waveland resident out on bond from previous drug arrests, was arrested again on Wednesday by the Bay-Waveland Drug Task Force for possession of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), according to Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay St. Louis, Police Chief Frank McNeil.

James Jellest Lewis, 28, of Hart Street, Waveland, was arrested following the serving of a search warrant on his residence. He is charged with the possession of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), with intent to distribute. Also he is charged with sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), from a case prior to the execution of the search warrant, the police chiefs report said.

Agents Brent Anderson and Ian Estorfee are in charge of the investigation.

McNeil and Varnell also reported, "Lewis is being held without bond and is lodged at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility because of being out on bond from two previous controlled substance cases. He has been indicted by a grand jury and is awaiting trial on those cases. One was July, 2004, and involved the possession of a controlled substance, (marijuana), four grams while operating a motor vehicle and possession of a controlled substance (powder cocaine).

A Sept., 2003 case involves a search warrant of his residence revealed approximately 2.5 pounds of marijuana being seized."

Varnell and McNeil said they are hoping to keep the suspect in jail until all of the cases have gone to trial, and possibly he be sentenced as a habitual offender.

Only six more shopping days until Christmas

There are only six more days before Christmas, you are running late if you haven't completed your special shopping.

I realize there are those last minute shoppers, and usually they are the ones who cannot find the 'perfect' gift for that someone special.

In looking around our area stores, there are still a good supply of gifts, but the selections are going down fast as Christmas approaches.

Remember too, to Shop-at-Home.

Santa sure has been busy in recent weeks making special appearances.

I just wonder how many times some youngsters have given Santa their special wish list.

One thing about Santa too, is the fact that he is not too particular as to how he arrives at all of his destinations.

Since we lack snow, and that is the reason many of us call this place home, a large fire engine appears to be his most popular transportation.

He is probably resting his reindeers for the long ride on Christmas Eve to deliver the gifts for the good boys and girls.

By the way, I have noticed the behavior of youngsters really improves as Christmas nears.

I sure hope that next Friday night Santa will deliver the special wishes of all boys and girls.

There was sure a large turnout for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours Friday evening.

The event was sponsored by Hancock Bank and Hancock Insurance Agency.

It was a bit cold, but that did not keep folks away for the great food and refreshments.

There were several new faces I saw in the crowd, as well as 'old faithful' like Ames Kergosien.

I still say there is a need to spread the Christmas related parties through several months, as it is impossible to make everyone many of would like too.

Just think, our next Chamber Business After Hours will be in January, 2005.

It seems the arrival of year 2000 was only a few months ago and we are closing in on 2005.

When one gets in those senior years, time just passes by very fast.

Enjoy your many holiday parties and traditions.

A Very Special Christmas Story

Views from a Front Porch

by Paul Estronza LaViolette

I've told this story before, but it bears repeating as to me it is as much the essence of Christmas as the drummer boys story.

It actually happened just after Thanksgiving several years ago when I was returning to Mississippi from a visit with my son in Maryland. I left at about noon, figuring it was going to be a long drive, and I would get a good ways along before stopping for the night and finishing the trip the next day. Some snow was forecast and I wanted to get ahead of it.

When I reached Richmond, heavy flakes were starting to fall and the Virginia road crews were already out clearing the little amount of snow that had started to accumulate. I had all-weather tires on my car and decided I would continue until it got worse and then quit for the night.

It was a mistake.

As I crossed into North

Carolina, I found that there were no state road crews out and the snow was already starting to drift across the road. There was little to no traffic. After about fifty or so miles, conditions started to get bad and I began to think about stopping. I passed a sign advertising a Holiday Inn thirty miles ahead.

By now I had slowed to about thirty miles an hour and consoled myself that this would only be another hours drive. Although the road conditions had deteriorated to only one lane, the car was handling well and it seemed to me that conditions were as bad as they could get. In a little over one hour I would be in a nice warm bed.

I was wrong. The radio was of little help. Mostly static and various North Carolina announcers telling me how the snow had caught everyone by surprise and that schools would be closed tomorrow. Oh yes, and that the storm was expected to worsen.

By now I knew this. The road had become extremely bad and I kicked myself when I realized I had just passed an exit. I wanted to turn and head back to Richmond. The sign immediately after the exit ramp said that the next exit was fifteen miles. Maybe there would be a motel or something.

Soon I was down to five miles an hour and I realized it would take all my skill at driving for the next three hours to make it to the exit. I concentrated on staying inside the two barely visible ruts in the road. For the first time, I started to worry, the storm was getting even worse, and my gas gauge said less than a quarter of a tank.

Three times I saw dark humps that were cars lying at odd angles in the center median and in the down slopping shoulders that bordered the road. These were mostly covered by snow and their interiors were dark. Were they abandoned or were there people in these cars? I was too scared to stop, not sure I could get my skidding, twisting car moving again. And even if I did stop, I had no coat or boots to push my way through the deep snow to those isolated

SANTA'S HELPERS

Lumps of Coal and Such

Once upon a warm spring day in 2003, a recently retired couple realized their long held dream of owning a beach home in Waveland. Both had strong ties to Mississippi, and particularly to Waveland, since his parents and grandparents had lived, died and were buried here or in Clarksdale, and her parents lived and died here as well.

Then, too, Mimi and PawPaw's home on North Beach had been a summer and holiday sanctuary for them all during his career in the Marine Corps. It was the home to which they returned from "wherever"; it was a special place for the grandkids.

So, when opportunity knocked, this married couple of 41 years broke the piggy banks, cashed in a lifetime of savings and bought the newly listed home on South Beach. Ahhhh, that first summer was grand; and yet, unforeseen danger lurked just ahead.

You see, but a season had passed before jolly ole St. Collector sent his elf to "reassess" the newly acquired homestead. Exactly when that happened is unknown, but it's clear this shy little elf slipped in during 2004, did his work, and slipped out - unseen, unheard, unannounced.

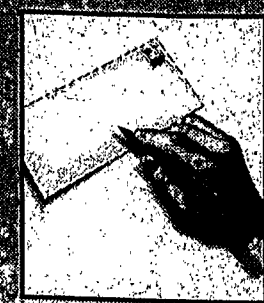

And it truly must have been wondrous to behold - St. Collector's elf sprinkling magic assessor dust and transforming the land value from $84,000 in 2002 to..... (wait for it).....$437,500 in 2004! Wow! Same elf, same property, two years passing! Now, the retired couple had expected some measured, balanced increase in value over time, but... Anyway, you can probably guess the rest. With shy little elf's report in hand, St. Collector's other elf worked their magic, too, and raised the property tax from $2500 to $11,000, just in time for Christmas.

So, when the shy little elf sprinkles magic dust on mounds to check.

Finally, the exit appeared and it seemed that the wind had blown the ramp clear of snow. I started up and found that although the snow was gone, there was ice. I was half way up when the rear of the car turned slightly and, before I could compensate, I had spun off the ramp deep into a snow bank.

I was helpless. There was no way I could get the car out of the snow. Even my getting out of the car was impossible. With the shoes I had on, I might as well have been barefoot. I turned the headlights off and for the first time looked around me. There was not a filling station or any sign of a motel at the road at the top of the ramp, not even a house. Nothing.

Up to the head of the ramp, I could see what appeared to be two dim headlights moving down the ramp toward me through the falling snow. It was a John Deere tractor and it stopped just above me and the driver climbed down from the tractor's single seat and moved down the slope to where I was stranded.

I rolled down the window and stared at the bundled up figure peering at me through a heavy muffler.

"I can't pull you up to the top, the ice is too much," he yelled over the noise of the wind. "Ain't nothing up there anyways. If I get you down, do you think you can make it to the next exit? It's about eight miles and there's a motel there and stuff"

I nodded and he went back to the tractor and got a towline. For a moment he disappeared in the snow in front of the car and then stood up and, giving me a thumbs-up, headed back to his tractor. All of this was slow going in the snow and once he slipped on the ice. Once back at the tractor, he mounted the seat and after twisting around to signal me "once more," drove the tractor down the ramp.

The car twisted violently and then moved slowly out of the bank up onto the side rather than on the roadway. I realized he was trying to keep off the icy ramp where I would perhaps slide and run him down. I started the engine to keep the car somewhat under control and after a few minutes he had pulled me back on the highway into the two barely visible ruts.

He got down and again, disappearing under the car, retrieved his towline and placed it on the rear of the tractor. Slowly, almost ponderously, he made his way back to my window.

"It ain't perfect," he panted, "but it's the best I can do." I was exuberant with my thanks and asked how much I owed him.

"No money," he laughed. "I heard the news of the snow on the radio and came over to the exit here to see if I could help some. I live with my wife about a mile down the road. We don't have this kind a' weather too often. Figured people would be needing a tow or something. I managed to help about five

"You're the first come by in awhile. I'm going to have to call it quits; I'm freezing cold. Been here almost four hours. I don't reckon anyone else will be able to get here anymore tonight."

I could see the bundled figure in the dim light off the reflecting snow. I couldn't tell if he was heavy set or thin, or even how old he was. He seemed of average height although in the snow it was hard to tell.

snow it was hard to tell. Except for the North Carolina accent, he was undistinguished in any way. I could have passed him on the street and not even noticed our passing. Yet here he was when I needed help.

We said goodbye and I drove on, taking my concentration off the road for a split second to see in back of me, the light of his tractor going back up the ramp.

About an hour or so later I made it to the Holiday Inn that was packed with stranded travelers such as myself. It was another adventure that while memorable to me is not the purpose of my telling about this incident. My main purpose is to describe a man who left his warm house to go down to the road "to see if I could help some." And, when he found that he could, he stayed until he could help no more.

No, it wasn't Christmas, but the spirit that permeates this time of year for us appears to stay in his heart for all of the days of the year. I've decided that where I die and go to heaven, he will be the first person I'll look up. If he is not there, I'll go out by the gate and wait. He'll be along, sooner or later.

Merry Christmas

Park were arrested and charged with the burglary of a dwelling," Barnett reported.

The investigation revealed that Mrs. Sunday, who has no legs, was carried by the males up the stairs to the raised dwelling and then placed in her wheel chair and allegedly moved through the house while the burglary occurred, Barnett stated.

The trio was arrested on December 10, with bond set at $5,000 for Debra Sunday $10,000 for Randy Sunday and $5,000 for Joshua Kennedy, according to jail records. All were bonded out.

Initial sheriff's office responder to the burglary was Deputy David Dear.

An investigation continues into several other burglaries in the area, Barnett, who is leading the investigation with assistance from Investigator John Luther, said Thursday.

On Monday, Dec. 13, the Old Town Merchants Association held its annual Christmas party at the Palm House Bed And Breakfast, 217 Union St.

Many of the merchants shared good food, excellent company and enjoyed touring the house and admiring the beautiful decorations. During the course of the evening, Sally Baker, president of the association, called for the attention of all attending to Richie Zitzmann, chairman of the decorations committee could present plaques to the winners.

Zitzman thanked all of the merchants who participated and said that the judges had a very difficult time reaching a decision in each category as there were so many outstanding entries. There were three categories and a different set of judges were assigned to each category. The judges were local business people, but not owners of retail shops in Old Town.

Richie, Sally and B&B owners Margie and Reg Morken all stated that Bay St. Louis had never looked more beautiful at Christmas time. The merchants attending the party certainly agreed with the observation. Many of the merchants are looking forward to next year's competition, as the contest will again be held in 2005.

The winner of the award for Best Door went to Carruth-Walker Galleries located at 102 Blaize Ave., the Best Window plaque was given to Chessy's located at 110 S. Beach Blvd. and the Best Store Front award was presented to

Charbonnet&Charbonnet
Antiques at 216 Main St.

The plaques will be displayed by the winners until Dec. 2005 when they will then be passed on to the new winners.

The Old Town Merchants Association invites all of the residents and visitors to take a ride to Old Town and enjoy the decorations and also enjoy shopping with our local merchants.

The First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis located at 141 Main St. is hosting a free, public presentation of its Live Nativity and Choir at 6:00 p.m. today, Sunday, December 19 which will be followed by their Bethlehem Marketplace. The marketplace and nativity will have activities and costumes representing the Biblical time surrounding the birth of Jesus along with live animals.

Alice -- museum open

now the Alice Moseley Folk Art and Antique Museum, a non-profit organization, established by Moseley's son Tim.

Many people still come to the little blue house to view Alice's original art, or to buy a print, but Tim says he'd like to see more people just stopping by, especially this week. Alice would have celebrated her 95th birthday on Tuesday.

"I think they may be a little sad to come by without Alice being here," Tim said. "But we don't want them to feel like that... no one misses her more than me, but mother wouldn't want people to be sad, and there is nothing that would please her more than to know that she is remembered and that people are still enjoying her art."

Herman, Alice's beloved pet dog, would like that too. Though Alice is no longer there to greet visitors, Herman the smiling dog is still as ready as ever to smile and pose for pictures. He spends a lot of his time in Alice's favorite chair by the front door, where she used to hold court, as she entertained visitors with her stories.

When the cameras come out, Herman springs into action. He will also pose by the rock painted to look just like him. If you want him to, just ask.

Moseley is in the process of buying back Alice's original art and already has a collection of about 35 pieces. His most recent acquisitions are one called Melons For Measles, Mumps and Misery, which portrays a doctor who is paid for his services with melons; and another called From A Shotgun House to a Mansion on a Hill, which portrays Elvis Presley's rise to fame and fortune. Many other favorites dot the walls of the little house.

In many ways, it is a little like Miss Alice is still there waiting for visitors to entertain. In two rooms of the little house her video plays continuously and there she is, looking her best, and telling the stories she loves. Along with her art prints, the video is available for purchase.

Tim hopes the museum will support itself and later generate enough to provide funding for scholarships or other worthy causes around town. He is in the process of adding his collection of antique Majolica, Rockingham Currier and Ives and other pottery and glassware to the museum. Later, furniture will follow. The entire estate will be left to provide for the good of the Bay St. Louis community, he said.

Tim currently serves as director and curator for the museum, with Lisa Bouis serving as manager. Lisa helped Miss Alice this past summer and Tim asked her to stay on full time to run the museum. She was delighted with the idea, she said.

Lisa offers a guided tour if you would like one, Tuesday-Friday from Noon to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tim opens the museum on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

If you want to just stop by and take a leisurely stroll through, or sit and chat a while, that is fine too. Herman, of course, hopes you want to take his picture.

For more information on the Alice Moseley Folk Art and Antique Museum please call 228-467-9223 or stop by at 214 Bookter St. in Bay St. Louis.

DIAMONDHEAD BOOK RETURN - Beginning Monday, December 20, Diamondhead residents can now return their Hancock County Library System books and other items in a new book return. Funded by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Library System, the book return is located on the access road alongside the Diamondhead Fire Station and next to the drop box for fire district bills. Service pick up days are Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, except for holidays. Pictured trying out the new book return are, from left, Lisa Coward, Hancock County Supervisor District 3; Diamondhead Fire Chief Dennis Westbrook; Diamondhead library users Celeste Neuffer and Dotty Geroux; Diamondhead Fire Lt. Steve Harrison; and Mary M. Cassis, Hancock County Library System Board of Trustees Chairman. For more information call 467-5282.

Bridge

weather cooperates, said county engineer Geoffrey Clemens on Thursday. Construction is scheduled to begin January 12 and take about six months.

Supervisors opened bids for the project on November 16 and awarded the bid that day to low bidder Glynn W. Leonard, Inc. The bid came in at a little under $20,000 above the engineer's estimates of $418,663.88. Leonard was awarded the bid at $438,222.95. They will have 120 working days to complete the job once construction begins.

Attention was focused on the bridge after a young woman was killed there when her car failed to make the sharp curve at the approach, sending her car into Catahoula Creek. State inspections early this year found the bridge to be below sufficiency ratings.

Supervisors briefly considered posting weight limit signs so that light vehicles could continue to use the crossing, but realized that the cost and efficiency of enforcing weight limits made the idea impractical. With no way to ensure the safety of the bridge, they were forced to close it to all traffic on March 12. The process of rights of way acquisitions held up the project for months, and were only recently completed.

The project will include a brand new bridge and will straighten out a dangerous curve on the approach, making the approach more gradual and the bank less severe, Clemens said. Also included will be all new guard rails, pavement markers and signs. Compton engineers Clemens and John Weaver will oversee the project.

Day School testing at St. Stanislaus College

St. Stanislaus College will host Day School Testing on Saturday, January 8, 2005, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, principal. Parents of current sixth and seventh grade boys who are interested in attending St. Stanislaus are urged to register their sons for the annual placement testing. The testing will begin at 10:00 AM in the Resource Center on the second floor of the Main School Building. The cost of the test is $8. For more about St. Stanislaus and/or to register for the placement testing, please contact Mrs. Dolores Richmond at 228-467-9057 ext. 227.

State off group's bad list

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Washington-based American Tort Reform Association has dropped Mississippi from its 'judicial hellhole' list.

The association released its annual survey on Wednesday, and touted Mississippi as a model for the rest of the nation in judicial reform. It comes a year after five Mississippi counties were listed as 'judicial hellholes' because of high jury verdicts.

In the report, association president Sherman Joyce said that local judges and policy makers have a choice when identified as a judicial hellhole, fix the problem or allow it to linger.

There is no better example of that than the divergent path taken by last year's top judicial hellhole: Madison County, Illinois, and Mississippi's 22nd judicial circuit," Joyce said. "Madison County, (Ill.) sunk deeper as a judicial hellhole; Mississippi, through the resolve of the executive, judicial and legislative branches, has started to turn its judiciary around."

Mississippi's 22nd Circuit Court District of Jefferson, Copiah and Claiborne counties was listed last year as the No. 3 on the association's list for litigation abuse. Holmes County was ranked 12th and Hinds County 13th.

But in the last two years, the state lawmakers have adopted legislation putting caps on most jury awards. The state Supreme Court also has thrown out numerous large jury awards and adopted rules limiting the joining of plaintiffs in large product liability lawsuits.

"It's outstanding news. It validated that if Mississippi improved its legal environment, Mississippi's business climate would improve," said Steve Browning, executive director of Mississippians for Economic Progress, a coalition of 40 statewide associations representing small businesses and health care providers.

But Mississippi Trial Lawyers Association President Buddy Coxwell said the list doesn't validate anything.

"Mississippi never deserved to be on a judicial hellhole list," he said.

Bank names advisory board members

Seven Gulf Coast community leaders have been named to the advisory board of The Peoples Bank, announced Chevis C. Swetman, chairman and CEO of the bank.

The new advisory board members include: Kenny Holloway of Biloxi, owner of Car Care Company; Linda Roberts, a CPA in Ocean Springs; Edward "Chip" Donovan, an attorney in Biloxi; Larry Clark of Gulfport, vice president of Butch Oustalet Ford; Margaret Anne Snodgrass of Biloxi, secretary/treasurer of Gollot and Sons Transfer; Jim Carr of Diamondhead, President of McAlister's Deli; and Dr. Lena Hollis Melton of Ocean Springs, a professor at Mississippi Gulf Coast community College-Jackson County.

The new advisory board members will serve three-year terms through 2007.

Projects planned to restore shrinking coastal wetlands

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi River Commission voted Wednesday to submit plans to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers that would restore Louisiana's coastal wetlands.

The project, known as the Louisiana Coastal Area Ecosystem Restoration Study, maps out a strategy for restoring wetlands from Mississippi to Texas. The area is ecologically impacted by the Mississippi River.

The plan outlines five restoration projects that could cost $25 million each and would be funded over a 10-year period.

They are: — Restoring the tattered Caminada headlands by planting marsh grass and building back beaches. The headlands make up the western boundary of the Barataria basin and since the late 1880s about 40 feet a year of shoreline has eroded away. Erosion there also threatens Port Fourchon.

— Reintroducing Mississippi River water into Bayou Lafourche. The bayou, once abundant with water as a former distributary of the Mississippi River, was closed off in 1904 to save communities down river from flooding. Plugging the bayou is blamed in part for the rapid land loss in the Barataria and Terrebonne basins, where 81 percent of the state's wetlands loss has taken place. Officials hope that diverting more water down the bayou will lead to land creation.

Building up the central part of the Barataria basin by diverting Mississippi River water at Myrtle Grove and distributing dredged materials from the river in key locations. Unless action is taken, scientists believe the area will lose 152,000 acres by 2050.

The Corps of Engineers headquarters in Washington must now sign off on the project before it is submitted to Congress.

Financial firm ranked number 1

For the 12th consecutive year, Edward Jones ranked No. 1 in Registered Representative magazine's annual survey of the nation's seven largest financial-services firms. The magazine randomly selects brokers nationwide and asks them to rank their firms in various categories.

"The firm received verbal praise for its ethics, for its unwavering business focus and for its attention to the needs of its reps, including its longstanding policy of providing a full-time assistant paid for by the firm," according to the magazine's December 2004 issue. The firm's ranking on "support" topped all other firms, the magazine reported.

Edward Jones investment representatives gave the firm its highest scores in 14 of the 20 categories in which it was rated. Some of these categories include: ongoing training, client account statements, quality of the products offered, management and the firm's strategic focus.

"This ranking is formed by the opinions of our investment representatives — the people who meet with clients every day," said Craig Foster, the local Edward Jones investment representative. "That makes it a good measure of how well we are serving our clients, which gives this ranking even greater significance."

Foster said that he is particularly proud of the No. 1 ranking because of the number of years Edward Jones has achieved this honor.

"Twelve years is no coincidence," Foster said. "We are doing things differently at Edward Jones, and we are proud of that distinction."

Edward Jones, the only major financial services firm advising individual investors exclusively, traces its roots to 1871 and currently serves more than 6 million clients. The firm offers to clients a variety of investments, including certificates of deposit, taxable and non-taxable bonds, stocks and mutual funds.

Bay crushes East Central; hosts Christmas tourney Dec. 21-22

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Stan writer
The Bay High Tigers put an exclamation point on their style of play in Division 8-4A play heading into the Christmas break with a sweep of the East Central Hornets on Friday, December 17th at the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium.

Their style of play boiled down to intense defense and solid shooting for both the Tigers and the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers (12-0, 3-0) stormed past the Lady Hornets 89-17. The game was almost a complete opposite showing compared to their game against the Lady Warriors of D'Bererville on Tuesday night. The game against D'Bererville was one in which the Lady Tigers never seemed to get in a groove. That was not the case against East Central.

Lady Tigers head coach Debbie Triplett commented, "We were able to get in our groove tonight and play our game. We limited our turnovers (5 in the game) and fouls (6 total in the game) and played much better all the way around. Plus, we were able to play our bench tonight which enabled them to get some game experience."

Bay High jumped out to a 30-3 lead in the first quarter and stretched that lead to 52-12 by halftime. The Lady Tigers' defense stiffened in the third period and held East Central scoreless as Bay High pushed their lead to 73-12.

Kendra Reed led four Lady Tigers in double digits with 21 points and 6 rebounds. Sara Gilmore added 15 points and 5 rebounds while Whitney Gladney also added 15 points. Keneisha Montgomery chipped in 10 points in the win.

In the boys game, the Tigers took charge early jumping out to a 23-8 lead in the first period and almost doubled up on East Central by halftime with a lead of 42-23.

George Easley was on fire for the Tigers nailing five three-pointers in the first half alone for 18 points. He finished with 25 points for the game including seven treys and two slams. Charles Nichols ran a solid game at point for the Tigers throughout the game and put an exclamation point on the victory late in the game with a move to the basket that left everyone in attendance gasping for air.

Nichols stole ball and drove down the court with a two-on-three situation. Nichols pulled his dribble up and faked an assist that everyone in the gym, including security, fell for; however, Nichols finished off the play to the melodious sound of "Oooooochhhhhhhhhhh!"

The Tigers kept up their defensive pressure in the third period maintaining a commanding 60-34 lead. In the fourth period, the Tigers' bench came alive and kept the pressure on the Hornets with Percy Hall knocking down two three-point shots.

Tigers head coach Alan Lumpkin stated, "We shot the ball, as a team, very well tonight. George Easley had a breakout game against East Central and we hope that this will be a springboard for his confidence as we continue through the season. On defense, I am very pleased with intensity but we are still making some mistakes. However, as long as the intensity continues to be there we can work on smoothing the mistakes out."

George Easley led all scorers with 25 points followed by Charlie Nichols with 12 points and Braxton Rockwell with 11 points. East Central was led by Justin Owenby with 19 points and Zenith Doak with 11 points.

The Bay High Tigers

were in action on Saturday, December 18th at the War on the Shore on the campus of St. Stanislaus. The Lady Tigers played Hattiesburg while the Tigers tangled with Harrison Central. The host team, St. Stanislaus, locked horns with the Jesuit Blue Jays of New Orleans. The Rocks (10-2) and the Blue Jays met earlier in the season in the Jesuit tournament with the Blue Jays claiming a slim 38-36 win over SSC. Scoring details of these games and the entire War on the Shore will be available in Thursday's edition.

Also, the Bay High Christmas Tournament will be played December 21-22 at the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium. Games on both days will begin at 4pm. The teams involved are Bay High (boys and girls), Redemption-Seton (boys and girls), Gautier (boys only), D'Iberville (girls only), Slidell (girls only) and Salmen (boys only).

Games will begin on both days at 4pm. The Lady Tigers will play each night at 7pm followed by the Tigers at 8:30pm.

Hunters beware: Anthrax confirmed in white-tail deer

BY JAMES L. CUMMINS

White-tail deer live for an average of 8 years. However, many do not live beyond 4 or 5 years of age. Many infectious diseases affect white-tail deer. In deer management programs, the presence and impacts of diseases must be significantly considered. The most common means of deer diseases are protozoa, bacteria and viruses.

In Sept. 1991 anthrax was confirmed in white-tail deer in Sunflower County near Ruleville, Mississippi. Ten deaths of deer occurred in Leflore County and five deaths occurred in Tallahatchie County that same year due to anthrax. It was suspected that similar deaths of deer that had occurred in other counties in the state that same year were caused by anthrax. To my knowledge, no death in Mississippi's deer population due to anthrax has occurred since 1991.

Anthrax is an acute, infectious, bacterial disease which can be fatal to deer, cattle and humans. It is usually a soil-borne infection and major changes in soil moisture, such as extreme wetness or extreme drought, can cause the bacteria to proliferate and become available to be ingested by deer.

Soil and water can also become contaminated from diseased animals. Susceptible animals can contract the disease by drinking and feeding in a contaminated area. Scavengers and predators can transmit the bacteria too.

Only a few parts of the world are free from anthrax and it has caused significant die-offs of white-tailed deer in virtually all states in the United States. Once deer contract the disease, they appear dull and apathetic, lose coordination (stagger) and become stiff legged. Bloody discharges from the nose and anus are common signs. Deer with anthrax usually die within 48 hours of exhibiting these symptoms.

When sick or dead deer are observed, no attempt should be made to move or examine the animal(s). One should notify a local conservation officer. Humans are highly susceptible to the disease, which in extreme cases can be fatal if not treated.

Former POWs reunited after 60 years

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

Their friendship was forged in a hail of bullets and shrapnel, and cemented during eight months together in a Nazi POW camp. Then they didn't see each other again for the next 60 years.

Bay native Gerald Spotorno was reunited last week with his long-lost brother-in-arms Sam Panchik after Panchik made a pilgrimage to Bay St. Louis from his home in Ford Cliff, Pa.

"Jerry saved my life," Panchik said last week, his eyes misty as his memory traveled back to January 1944 and the years melted away.

"I was assigned to the 45th Division, Company E, 180 Infantry," Panchik said. After completing basic training at Camp Croft, S.C., the division went to Africa, then Sicily and Salerno before joining other U.S. and British forces in the assault on Anzio Beach on the western Italian Coast.

"As we were crawling up the ... Mussolini Canal, I was hit by (shrapnel from a) landmine," Panchik said. "I got peppered by metal all up the right side of my body — my elbow, my side, my face and everything else."

Panchik was taken by ship to a hospital in Naples, where he spent the next month recovering.

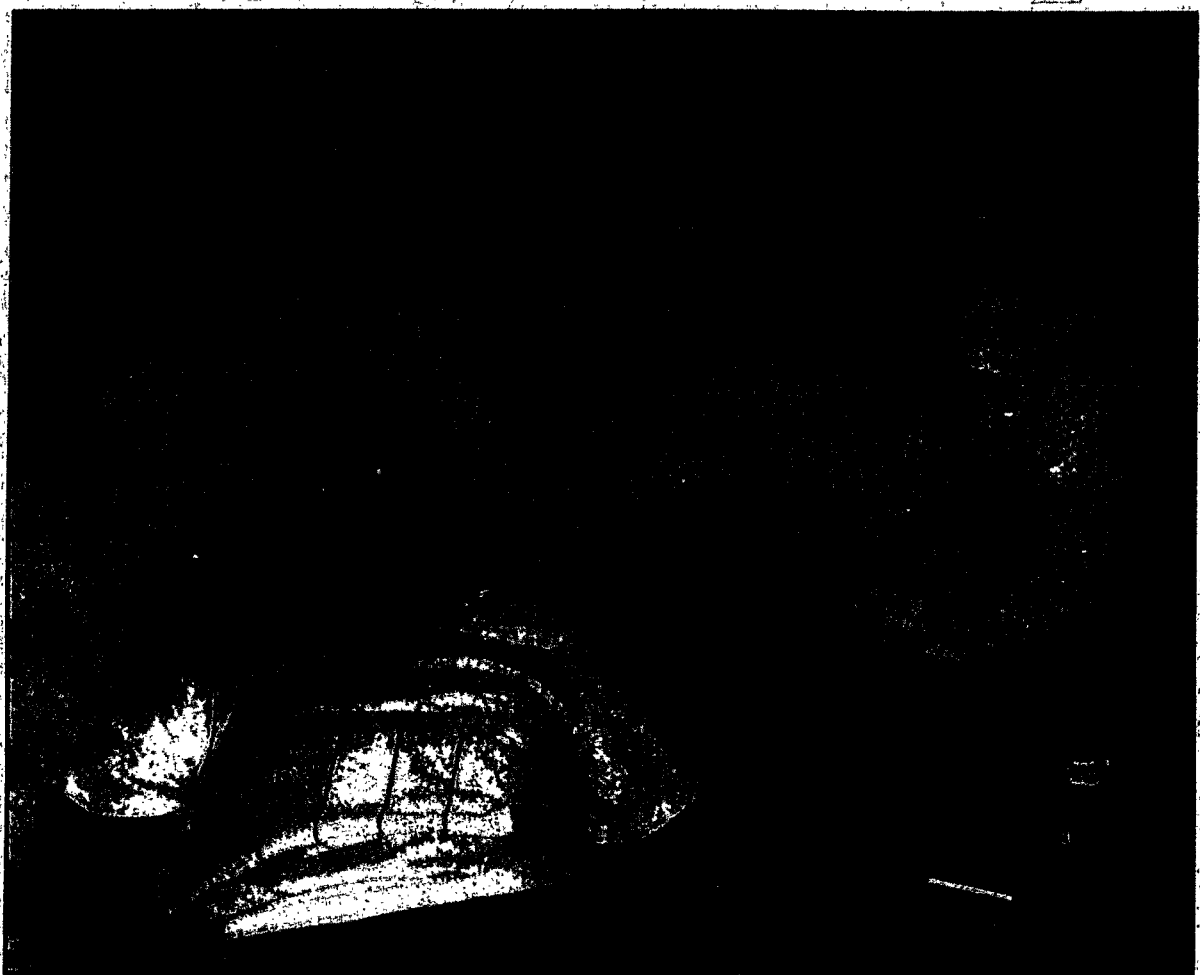

"My aim was, I wanted to be sent home, but I never made it. I went back into battle. That's where I met Gerry."

From Anzio, Panchik said, the Allied forces "decided to make the invasion into southern France. We were in the first wave. Jerry Spotorno was with me at that time. ... He was a medic. He was a very bright and smart man. He, to me, was like an unsung hero."

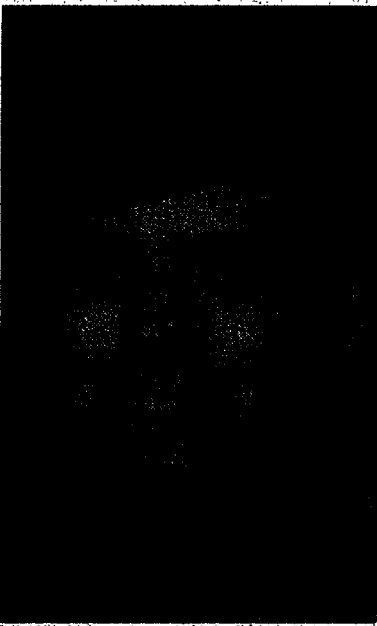

"He didn't carry a rifle, he didn't carry a pistol. He just took care of the wounded and he did that very well."

During the first battle of the campaign, Panchik said, the platoon was under heavy fire much of the time.

"Our objective was to take that big hill (outside of Rougemont, France)," Panchik said. The rest of the platoon went "up" with shelling and fire all around. After part of the division came back down the hill, "Jerry Spotorno started counting the troops came up to me and he said, 'Sam, there are two guys missing up there.' We both went up to the top of the hill, and we found the two men who were missing — they were both still alive — and brought 'em back. Gerry, he did a terrific job of taking care of those men."

Gerald Spotorno and Sam Panchik, at Spotorno's home in Bay St. Louis last week.

Gerald Spotorno, ca. 1943

As the platoon moved further into southern France, Panchik said, they got within 100 yards of a squadron of Nazi infantry — "They were shooting all around us. ... We were getting shelled by howitzers. ... Everybody was calling 'Medic! Medic!' And Gerry Spotorno was there."

Later in the campaign at Rougemont, Panchik was again wounded by shrapnel. "Jerry came up, and he dragged me down the hill about a mile, mile and a half."

"The reason he dragged me down was, the Germans had us zeroed in."

"They went right through us with artillery fire," Spotorno said. "Sam got injured pretty badly. I carried him on my back, kind of piggy-back."

Spotorno helped Panchik and another wounded soldier make it to a culvert away from the battle, then went back up the hill to help more men.

Sam Panchik, ca. 1943

Panchik was captured by the Nazis hours later, interrogated — he refused to tell them anything more than name, rank and serial number — then take for treatment. He didn't see Spotorno again until weeks later, when both men were prisoners at Stalag 7A.

"There was not abuse in Stalag 7A. All we'd do is sit and mope," Panchik said. "The food was the hard part, right Jerry?"

Spotorno agreed, but said the Red Cross parcels did help, when the Germans distributed them properly.

"They started out giving each person one whole box," which contained some dry food goods, chocolate and cigarettes, but as more POWs filled the Stalag, there were fewer Red Cross supplies to go around, until eventually five or six men would have to share each one.

"For Christmas," Spotorno said, "we got two each got two hamburgers. 'Yeah,' Panchik said. 'We'd go on these working parties on what (the Germans) called '40 and 8' box cars — they held eight horses or 40 men. ... Supplies were brought in by horse and wagon. After Christmas, we never saw the horses again. Take it for what it was — we were eating horse meat."

Other than bad food and the constant threat of mistreatment, the POWs worried about their families.

"There was a boy who served with me named Eddie Zedon," Spotorno said. He was Lebanese, with a big family up in Boston. He got wounded the same day Sam did. He'd lost so much blood, he was white as a sheet, and he was pretty dark-complected to begin with."

"I came to find out about a month and a half later, that he goes back to the states and called my folks to let them know that I was alive and well — hid didn't know that I had been captured — but it kind of eased their minds a little. Lots of times when people were reported MIA (Missing In Action), they were dead and the families just worried. That kind of helped my family out."

After Stalag 7A was liberated, Spotorno and Panchik were separated and rotated back stateside in different shifts.

"The last time I saw Jerry was about a week before the war was over," Panchik said, until the two met again in Spotorno's home on Beach Blvd. after Spotorno's daughters began looking for Panchik.

"I love this guy," Panchik said. "He saved my life. If it hadn't been for him, I wouldn't be here today."

Our Lady of the Gulf Christmas Concert

Members of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church Parish (OLG) invite the community to join in the spirit of Christmas during the Annual Concert today, Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. The concert, to be held at the Church (228 South Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis), features Christmas Oratorio by Camille Saint-Saens and other songs of the season. The concert is presented by the OLG Choir in association with accomplished musicians and soloists from throughout the region. The concert features the newly restored and enhanced Rive Organ, a Chamber Orchestra and Harp.

Conducted by OLG Music Director Edward M. Grotkowski, the concert is free and open to the public. A gala reception will follow the concert in the OLG Community Center.

OLG Church is the mother church of all Catholic Churches in Hancock County. With over 5,500 registered Parishioners, it is the second largest in the Diocese of Biloxi.

It is also the third oldest Parish on the Gulf Coast and the fifth oldest in Mississippi.

During the concert, the public will have the opportunity to view the impressive high altar, built of Italian Carrara marble, and the dome over the altar that features a large painting of Mary as Our Lady of the Gulf to whom the church is dedicated. Exquisite stained glass windows by Mayer and Company in Munich, Germany, adorn each side of the Church, intended for meditation and for lifting one's spirit.

For more information, contact the Parish Office at: 467-6509.

SSC's Cure & Klein top 2004 All-Sea Coast Echo team

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The 2004 high school gridiron season has finally come to a close and the stadium lights are now just a faint glow on the horizon. Two area teams advanced to the playoffs in 2004 - Bay High and St. Stanislaus. The Rocks also were crowned Division 8-4A champions during the season.

Among the many high school football players on our four area teams, the Sea Coast Echo newspaper proudly presents the 2004 edition of the All-Sea Coast Echo football team.

The first team offense is led by the Offensive Player of the Year Michael Cure. Cure, a 5-10 175lb senior wide receiver from St. Stanislaus, led his team to a 9-2 overall record and a perfect 6-0 mark in Division 8-4A. He was an integral part of the first Rock division championship football team and a SSC offense that literally rewrote the record books.

With Cure on offense, the Rocks set new marks in total yards gained (4,337), passing yards (2,527), most touchdowns (55) and most points scored (386).

In 2004, Cure caught 89 passes for 854 yards and five touchdowns with a long reception of 71 yards. Cure, a four-year starter, leaves the school owning several career records. In 2004, he established a new mark for career receptions with 112, career receiving yards with 1,947 yards, and tied the career mark for receiving touchdowns with 16. Cure was also named to the Mississippi Association of Coaches

Class 4A All-State team.

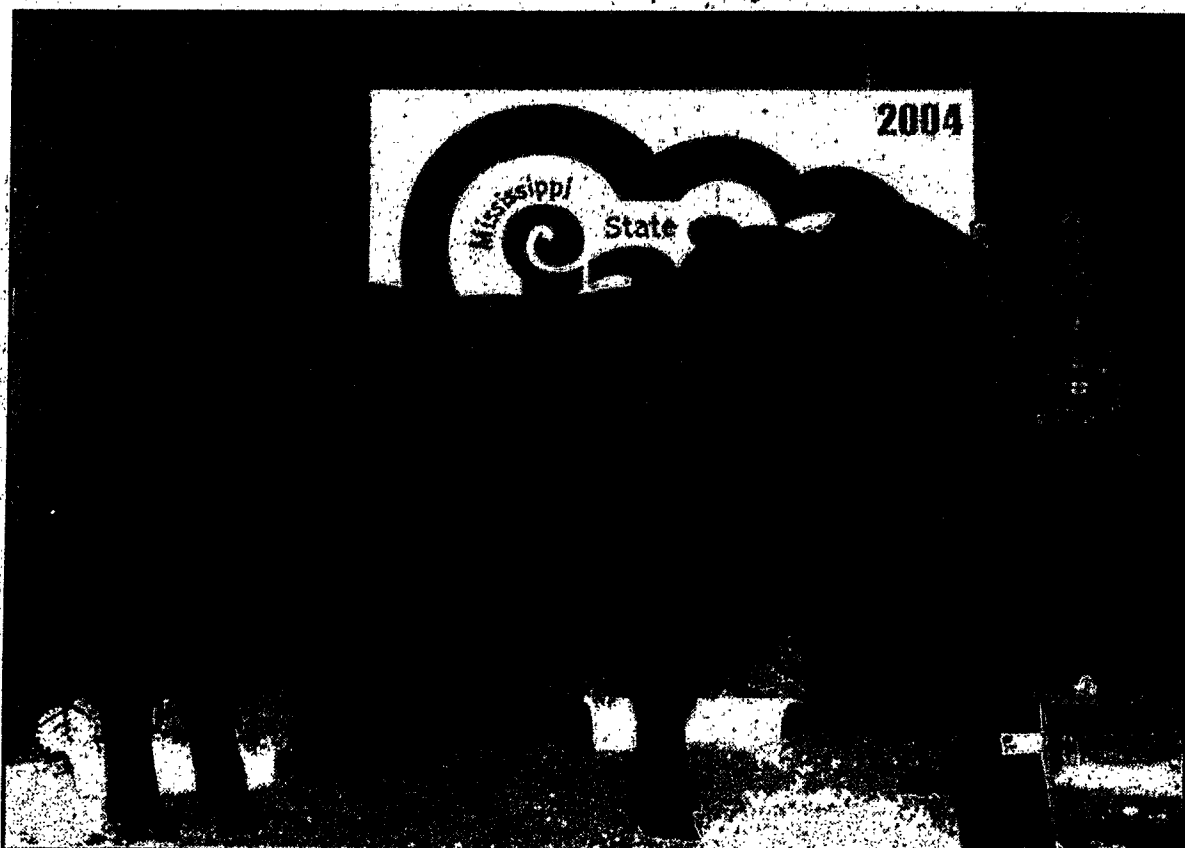

Also joining Cure on the first-team offense are teammates QB Lance Cuevas, RB Josh Duplessis, PK Bryce Morreale, WR Stefan Sofianos and OL Caleb McQueen.

Cuevas, a first-year junior quarterback, threw for 2,437 yards and 28 touchdowns in 2004. He set single season marks in passing yards, touchdown passes, completions and attempts. He also set new single-game marks with 405 yards passing and six touchdowns.

The 2004 Mississippi State Fair and 4-H Livestock Show is a thing of the past, and Hancock 4-H members were busy getting their livestock in a show class condition for the events.

This year, Hancock County had four 4-Hers entered. Bristen Breaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Breaux of Kiln, Ethan Hoda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hoda of Kiln, Brooke Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ladner of Kiln, and Kyle Prather, son of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Malley of Kiln, represented Boots and Buckles 4-H Club.

Not only were they entered in the Beef Show, but they competed in the Beef Showmanship event. These four 4-H members represented Hancock County 4-H well.

Sisters of St. Joseph celebrate 150 years

THE SEA COAST ECHO
On Jan. 15, 2005, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Medaille celebrate their 150th anniversary of their presence in America. A prayer service will be celebrated at Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis at 1 p.m., followed by a reception in the Parish Hall. All their friends, alumnae and benefactors are invited to attend.

In November, 1854, three French sisters journeyed from LeHarve and arrived in New Orleans on Dec. 30, 1854. Their trip for 41 seasick days aboard the John Hancock ended with a welcome stay in the Ursuline sisters and a 7-hour boat and train ride to Bay St. Louis on Jan. 6, 1855.

From their first convent, a small frame house next to Our Lady of the Gulf Church, the sisters began teaching in a one-room school in Waveland, walking the four miles to and from each day. Within a scant 11-year period, they had a two-story building in Bay St. Louis housing St. Joseph's Academy, a boarding and day school for girls. By 1858, a similar academy was begun in New Orleans, and by 1868, an orphanage and academy in Baton Rouge.

Sisters continued to be sent from France as missionaries and by 1890, American sisters began to outnumber the French. Their good works began to spread quickly and by the end of the 19th century, besides schools and the orphanage, sisters could be found working among the Indians in Charenton, La., caring for the sick and elderly in New Orleans, and running a laundry in Baton Rouge to support their work and provide vocational training for the orphans. By 1894, sisters were sent to Cincinnati, Ohio, where they staffed a home for working women, opened several parochial schools, and established a boarding school and academy.

In 1903, because of changes in clerical laws in France, 50 French sisters arrived to serve in the United States and growth of ministries continued.

Between 1905 and 1960, the congregation was involved in 12 newly-established church parishes in southeast Louisiana and Bay St. Louis as parochial schools rapidly evolved and grew.

Sisters became involved in visiting inmates at the Louisiana State Penitentiary as early as 1872 and in providing catechesis at the State School for the Blind in Baton Rouge from 1920 to 1919.

Health care as a ministry for the sisters began in 1950 when they signed a five-year contract to staff a small clinic in New Roads, La. A request from Bishop Maurice Schexnayder for sisters to operate a new Terrebonne General Hospital in Houma, La., resulted in the arrival there of nine sisters in 1954.

The 1960s saw a number of sisters venturing into new ministries: foreign missions, campus ministry, work among the deaf, in computer programming and communications. After Vatican Council II, more sisters moved from classrooms and hospital wards to work among the poor and powerless in inner cities, with sugarcane workers in New Iberia, Louisiana, and with adult education. Their goal was to enable individuals to develop the skills needed to take charge of their own lives.

The year 1977 marked a watershed moment for the congregation when ties with the French sisters, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Bourg, were severed and an American congregation, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Medaille, was born. The name was adopted in honor of Father John Peter Medaille, a French Jesuit and founder of the original Sisters of St. Joseph in 1650. Today there are sisters in three key areas of the U.S.—St. Paul and Crookston, Minnesota; Cincinnati, Ohio; and Baton Rouge and New Orleans, Louisiana. Others serve as far west as El Paso, as far south as Nicaragua, in the diocesan office in the diocese of Houma-Thibodaux, and in the rural communities of Clinton and Chauvin, Louisiana.

Beginning in the 1980s and continuing to the present the congregation has taken steps to collaborate with more than 20 other congregations of St. Joseph through the Sisters of St. Joseph Federation. Such collaboration has led to the sharing of resources and personnel, particularly for the training of new entrants, and in efforts to take a serious corporate stance on issues of social concern held in common by the entire federation.

Celebrating 150 years is an opportunity to thank the thousands of friends and colleagues who have assisted the sisters in their efforts to live the gospel mandate by reaching out to all in love and service. A concluding celebration for the 150th anniversary will be held in New Orleans on Oct. 15, 2005, at St. Frances Cabrini Church.

Salvation Army's 'Red Kettle' donations are down this year

Already stinging from the extra expenses of hurricane disaster relief this year, officials with The Salvation Army Gulfport say donations from the familiar Red Kettle Campaign are more than $3,300 behind what they had collected at this time last year. Also lagging is the donations from the group's annual mass mailing.

Linda was evicted from her home when her social security check didn't come in the main. She and her young grandson, Jordan, came to stay at The Salvation Army Center of Hope's women and children shelter while waiting to get her check replaced.

Jordan celebrated his 4th birthday in the shelter. The staff gathered a few gifts, and the kitchen staff baked him a cake.

Linda and Jordan were thankful for the hospitality shown to them in their time of need. "I don't know where we would have gone if The Salvation Army had not been able to take us in. It took several weeks to get my replacement check. The people here went beyond what I would have expected from a shelter," said Linda.

The Salvation Army, the world's largest charitable organization, offers many programs for poor and homeless in our community. Besides the shelter program, The Salvation Army serves meals, provides rent and utility assistance, feeds the hungry and provides Christmas for thousands of Gulf Coast Children.

An astounding 93 cents from every dollar donated goes directly into these and other vital programs. Donations from the public are the largest part of the organization's budget.

"We're facing some hard decisions because services are the only place we can cut. We don't expect the needs in the community will decrease this next year, but we will have to decide what our priorities will be when completing the budget," said Major Darrell Kingsbury, Corps Officer.

"Our mission on the Coast is to help relieve the suffering of those in poverty. We will continue to do that with all of our resources and the support of the community." Donations to a Red Kettle in Gulfport, Long Beach, Pass Christian, Hancock County, Stone County and Pearl River County are used to support the shelter programs in Gulfport, which has housed 1167 men, women and children so far this year.

Other donations can be mailed to P.O. Box 728, Gulfport, MS, 39502

SSC hosts 14th Academic Competition for Excellence

The fourteenth annual St. Stanislaus College Academic Competition for Excellence (A.C.E.) was held on the campus of St. Stanislaus College in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on December 4, 2004, according to Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, principal.

Over 415 students from 5th, 6th, and 7th grades participated. They represented 45 schools from Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Lamar, Pearl River, and Stone counties in the competition.

Six students from each school in the counties named were invited to compete in one of four subject areas: English, mathematics, science, and social studies. A competitive test was administered for each subject, and trophies were awarded to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finishers.

After the test, to lighten the atmosphere, each grade played Team Trivia. Trophies were presented for 1st place for each grade.

The winning 5th grade participants were as follows:

English: 1st Place, Maegen Manis from Stone Elementary School,

A.C.E. Winners from the 5th Grade

Newspapers In Education is a program in which newspapers supplement traditional teaching materials in the classroom. N.I.E. programs are provided to local schools through paid sponsorship programs.

Newspapers In Education programs teach with the newspaper. Students learn to become critical thinkers through reading, analyzing and discussing newspaper stories and editorials. They use the knowledge they gain to engage in conversations with peers and family members.

If you would like to be an N.I.E. SPONSOR or if you are a teacher and would like to use the Echo's N.I.E. program in your classroom you may contact RITA BREUN, N.I.E. coordinator at THE SEA COAST ECHO 467-5474.

The Sea Coast Echo

Hancock's Local Newspaper since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail-order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

It's What's on the Inside That Counts

One of the first real jobs I had as a young man was working on the railroad. In the middle of one particular day, I recall the track foreman telling all the new workers to go to the railroad doctor for a physical examination. At the time, we were all quite dirty and sweaty from working, and I apologized to the doctor because we didn't get a chance to clean up before seeing him. Surprisingly, the doctor didn't seem to mind, and he remarked that the dirt on the outside didn't matter; he was more interested in what was on the inside of the workers. Our Heavenly Father is also like the doctor—he is more interested in what is in our hearts than in our exterior, outward appearance. The Bible tells us that God alone knows the hearts of men and He will deal with each person as they deserve. However, sometimes we may put more importance on a person's exterior than we should. Although it is probably only human nature to be more friendly to an attractive, well-groomed person than to someone who is unkempt, a person with a kind and gentle heart may prove to be a more reliable friend, regardless of their appearance. Our Lord never looks at a person's outward appearance. He is only concerned with what is inside our hearts.

Truly God is good to the upright,
To those who are pure in heart.

The secularists lose again!!!

"Happy Holidays!" or "Season's Greetings!" used to be alternate greetings, always second to the accustomed "Merry Christmas!" Nowadays, however, secularist minds are striving mightily to relegate "Merry Christmas!" to the junk heap of customs. But the very worst, "Happy Solstice!" came from the mouth of one sad secularist who said Christmas has been celebrated by Christians only since 4 B.C., whereas others celebrated Christmas centuries before. That, sir, was not Christmas but Sol Invictus, the Unconquered Sun, which ancient Romans celebrated as a god at the winter solstice.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Early Christians purposefully set Christmas at December 25, just after the winter solstice of Sol Invictus, in order that Christmas would supplant the Roman feast with a feast of the Eternal Light which causes the sun to pale in brilliance. Poor secularists. They are fighting the very linguistics which were woven into the warp and woof of the mighty tide of culture itself. Even the word holiday itself grew directly out of the word holi-day before the twelfth century. Therefore, let secularists be aware that when they say "Happy Holidays!" the real root meaning is "Happy Holydays!"

The secularists can no more make holidays disappear than they can make culture vanish. Consider something as simple as good-bye. Which secularist does not use it many times every day? Yet, good-bye is a 1573 alteration of God be with you.

With fanatical feverishness, various devious officials in schools, public buildings and venues around the country are plotting around the clock to remove all sacred symbols and religion-based greetings from the public Christmas scene.

Their godless efforts are aided and abetted by nefarious organizations such as the ACLU (Asinine Civil Liberties Union?) whose mission statement and creed is to separate all of us Americans from whomever and whatever is Godly, spiritual and rooted in good.

Even in Rome, the citadel of Catholicism's headquarters, progressive activists are going about a systematic dismantling of whatever smacks of Jesus and his life story. One school even replaced the baby Jesus with Little Red Riding Hood.

Since when does Little Red Riding Hood hold a candle to the awesome historical figure of one Jesus Christ, by far history's most imposing phenomenon who clove the calendar in two, and taught a philosophy and theology followed by most of the world?

To say the least, Pope John Paul II is ticked. Tied off. He leveled a withering barrage of religious invectives against the secularists who want to rob Christmas of its only true meaning. Put in Little Red Riding Hood? Which hoods are trying to do this?

However, if the secularists had set about trying to promote the real Christmas, the genuine story of the historical Jesus, and the most influential Force the world has ever known, they could not find a more effective way to do it than what they are doing. So, go on, secularists! In your evil, hell-bent zeal to deprogram the world at this season by expelling the real baby Jesus and every symbol of the hope and joy sparked by his birth, his death and resurrection, you are exposing yourselves for the worst. At the same time, you are promoting Jesus as he would not have been otherwise publicized.

"Keep Christ in Christmas!" If Christians were to pay people for keeping Christmas and Christ in the news, they would have to pay the secularists, all of whom have done yeoman duty in putting the Man and his birthday in the spotlight of all the media.

It is reminiscent of the old Hollywood saying: "Talk about me. Say something good about me. Say something bad about me. Just talk about me."

The heat of discussion about the constitutionality of having a crèche and all its appointments in public places is second only to the heat of war in Iraq. One might say that there may be even more passion devoted to the retention of Christmas as it is.

So very many people, who otherwise might simply follow in lockstep after the tripe pawned off on us as Christmas in every mall and department store, have accepted the call to arms, showing passionate indignation at the grinchers trying to steal Christmas.

Separation of Church and State, hey? Nowhere in the U.S. Constitution does it say anything about separation of Church and State. Amendment I simply states:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Of course, the merchants of secularism parse and spin those words to mean separation of Church and State. Is it of no concern to them that all the great minds and people of sterling character who preceded them had no problem with the legalities they present?

We can only conclude that the secularist grinchers think they are more intelligent, more astute, more knowledgeable of the U.S. Constitution and of life itself, and more sensitive to what is best for Americans and the rest of the world. Without words, that is their claim about themselves compared to all the great Americans of the past two centuries.

And what are they proving? In short, they are proving that they are tightly wrapped up in themselves, in their own beliefs, visions and intolerance of culture, customs and the time-honored, centuries-old traditions of God-fearing people.

Secularists imply that the crèche and related scenes are an imposition on and a disparagement of non-Christian religions.

If that were so, how is it that Christians, Jews, Muslims, black activists and others have not interfered with each other all these years?

Kwanzaa, the crèche, the menorah and other ethnic and religious symbols have coexisted peacefully for many years and show no indications of encountering problems in each other. And, just think, saying "Happy Holidays!" means "Happy Holydays!" and in effect touches all the bases for all of us ethnics and religious partisans.

Happy Kwanzaa, Happy Hanukkah, Happy/Merry/Blessed Christmas! It all fits very well yesterday, today and tomorrow. Ultimately, all of these have the identical message:

"Peace on earth, good will to all!"

Merry Christmas to us, one and all

Why would these wise men who had knowledge of the heavens follow a lone star such a great distance?

Could it be that the Jews that were once in exile in the land of Babylon had this prophetic message? Since most of the exiles who returned from the Babylonian exile belonged to the tribe of Judah, they came to be called Jews and their land Judea.

King Herod's chief priests and scribes knew of this prophecy. They said to Herod, in Bethlehem in the land of Judah for thus it is written. For out of thee shall come a governor, that should rule my people, Israel. Matthew 5:6.

That old sly one, the devil tried to have the child Jesus destroyed.

King Herod gave orders to have all children under two years of age killed. Matthew 2:16.

The prophet Jeremiah spoke of this in chapter 31, verse 15. Much weeping in the land, however God sent an angel to warn Joseph, to take Mary and the Child and flee to Egypt.

Nothing and no one was going to stop the prophecy from being fulfilled.

It is now two thousand years since Jesus was born. His coming to Earth has made a path back to where he and his father abide.

The Christmas message is, the crib is empty, the cross of Christ has only sin nailed to it and the devil is handcuffed.

The world now has a Savior, conquerer, King, an Almighty God.

Merry Christmas to all.

The "Word" for the Week

The very first Christmas message

Who preached the first message concerning the coming of Christ? When was that message announced?

You probably think of the angel speaking to the shepherds, or perhaps the angel visiting with Mary! Well, the first message preached about Christ's birth came long before. In fact, God preached the first Christmas message in the Garden of Eden just after man's fall into sin. Adam and Eve were there! Satan was also there in the form of a serpent! God promised that old serpent, "I will put enmity between you and the woman and between your seed and her seed. He shall bruise you on the head and you shall bruise him on the heel" (Genesis 3:15). This was an amazing promise concerning the birth of Christ! God promised the woman she would have children. God promised that one of her children would conquer the devil! Notice that it was specifically the woman's child who would conquer Satan. In other words, the savior would be the child of the woman alone! Isaiah picked up this promise when He said, "Behold a virgin will be with child and bear a son, and she will call his name Immanuel" (Isaiah 7:14). Eve believed this promise! In fact when she bore her first son she made a great confession of faith. Listen to how Martin Luther translated Eve's confession, "I have the Man, the Lord" (Genesis 4:1). The margin of the New American Standard Version says, "I have gotten a man, the Lord." Such was her faith! Such is Jesus our Savior! When He was born, He was declared to be "God with us" (Matthew 1:21). Do you believe in the Savior as Eve did? Do you believe in the God/Man, Jesus Christ?

Football -- players of the year

in a 57-8 win over Pearl River Central in the first round of the Class 4A state playoffs.

Duplessis, a first-year junior running back, rushed for 1,210 yards and nine touchdowns with a long run of 62 yards. His average of 8.23 yards per carry in 2004 is the highest single-season average in school history. He is also the first 1,000-yard rusher at SSC since 2000.

Sophomore placekicker Bryce Morreale converted on 43-of-47 PAT attempts and kicked three field goals in 2004 while also doubling as the Rocks' starting center.

Sofianos, a senior wide receiver and two-year starter, finished 2004 with 41 catches for 906 yards and 13 touchdowns with a long reception of 90 yards. He set single-season marks for receiving yards, receiving touchdowns and the longest pass reception in school history. He was recently named to the MAC 4A All-State team.

McQueen, a sophomore offensive lineman and two-year starter, was responsible for protecting Cuevas and opening holes for Duplessis. He played a position that doesn't receive a spotlight but graded out at 90% for the season.

OL Teddy Morris, WR Steven Dauenhauer, RB Antonio Hawkins, and All-Purpose player Lorenzo Lewis made the first team from Bay High.

Morris, a junior offensive lineman, has started for the Tigers for three years and led Bay High in pancake blocks in 2004. Dauenhauer, a senior wide receiver, had 23 catches for 311 yards and four touchdowns in the Tigers' wide-open attack.

Hawkins, a senior running back, has started for Bay High for three seasons but only one as a running back. He carried the ball 180 times for 933 yards and 10 touchdowns this season. He added 10 receptions out of the backfield for 59 yards.

Lewis, a senior utility player, is one of the most exciting players in the area. He can cause opponents fits when he has the ball either on offense or on special teams.

Lewis had 40 catches for 743 yards and five touchdowns as a wide receiver. He also tallied 8 carries for 81 yards and two scores. Lewis returned 15 punts for 270 yards and three scores and had 8 kickoff returns for 300 yards and one touchdown.

OL Scott Nesom, OL Travis Hall and RB Mark Fairley were chosen for the first team from the Hancock Hawks. Nesom, a senior offensive lineman, has started for Hancock for three years and graded out at 85% for the season.

Hall, also a senior offensive lineman, has started two years and graded out at 88% in 2004.

Fairley, a junior running back, rushed 115 times for 690 yards and five touchdowns.

He also added 6 catches for 57 yards out of the backfield.

OL Frederick Wiley and TE Brandon Miller represent the Pass Christian Pirates on the first-team offense. Wiley, a senior offensive lineman, has started for the Pirates for three seasons. Miller, a senior tight end, caught 9 passes for 101 yards and a touchdown in 2004.

Honorable mention selections on offense were OL Daniel Lyrock (Bay High), OL Gary Isabel (Pass Christian), OL J.C. Brignone (St. Stanislaus), WR Brandon Riley (Pass Christian), QB Chad Moore (Pass Christian) and WR Brennan Thomas (St. Stanislaus).

The stingy first-team defense is led by Defensive Player of the Year Lee Klein. Klein, a senior line-backer and four-year starter from St. Stanislaus, is near the top of every individual statistical category on defense in the Rock record books. The 5-11, 215lb rock tallied 138 total tackles in 2004 to lead SSC. In that total were 40 solos and 23 tackles for loss for minus-95 yards and seven quarter-back sacks.

In his career, Klein gathered 490 total tackles which was just 11 tackles shy of the school record. He also became the school's career leader in tackles for loss with 55 for minus-182 yards. He has also been named to the All-Division 8-4A team and was the division's defensive player of the year.

Recently, he was named to the Mississippi Association of Coaches Class 4A All-State first-team.

Joining Klein on the first-team defense were teammates DL Brett Bentz, DL J.C. Brignone, LB Jordan Ellis, DB Floyd Dedeaux and DB Brennan Thomas.

Bentz, a senior defensive lineman and two-year starter, anchored a defensive line for SSC that allowed an all-time low of just 76 yards rushing per game. Bentz had 52 total tackles in 2004 with six sacks and 15 tackles for loss.

Brignone, a junior defensive lineman and two-year starter, recorded 53 tackles with two sacks and 13 quarter-back hurries. He was also named to the MAC 4A All-State team.

Ellis, a senior linebacker, was second on the team with 107 total tackles including 24 solos, four sacks and 17 tackles for loss.

Dedeaux, a senior defensive back and three-year starter, had 40 tackles and led the team with 8 pass break-ups. He also recorded an interception.

Thomas, a senior defensive back, had a team leading four interceptions and returned one for a score. He also had seven pass break-ups and blocked two kicks in 2004.

Pass Christian had three selections on defense in DL A.J. Swannier, LB Jaren Bowser and DB Brandon Riley. Swannier, a junior defensive lineman, has started for the past two seasons and recorded 26 tackles and five sacks in 2004.

Bowser, a junior line-backer and two-year starter, recorded 65 tackles and returned a fumble for a score.

Riley, a three-year starter at defensive back, had 47 tackles and two interceptions.

DL Brad Ladner and LB Trevor Adam earned first-team honors from Bay High. Ladner, a three-year starter on the defensive line, had 75 tackles and eight sacks in 2004. Adam, a junior three-year starter at linebacker, led Bay High with 100 total tackles including four quarter-back sacks.

LB John Lacoste and P Paul Verdin were Hancock's honorees on the first-team defense. Lacoste, a senior linebacker, was a three-year starter and led the Hawks with 111 total tackles. Verdin, a senior punter and two-year starter, recorded a 38-yard punting average for Hancock.

Honorable mention selections on defense were DL Brandon Miller (Pass Christian), DL Steven Dauenhauer (Bay High), DL Brennan Gordon (St. Stanislaus), LB Cory Thornton (Bay High), LB Jonathan Willis (Pass Christian), DB Robert Labat (Bay High), DB Aaron Saucier (Pass Christian), DB Zach Elkins (St. Stanislaus) and P Tony Marino (Bay High).

Make commitment to lighten your load, enjoy your family this holiday season

Before you get too busy with holiday preparations this year, take a few minutes to ponder your plans. If you are like many people, your holiday "to-do" list seems a mile long!

Yes, the holiday season can become quite busy! Additional activities, increased financial needs and extra work that must be done can create stress in a family—stress that affects both adults and children.

If holidays have been stressful in the past and you are looking for ways to lighten the load this year, consider these suggestions:

- Make a list of all the things you typically do to prepare for the holidays. (Example: housecleaning, decorating, buying gifts, preparing special recipes, attending holiday school, work and religious functions, and traveling to visit relatives.)

- Look over your list and, put a checkmark by the item you actually enjoy doing. Be honest about your feelings! Is anything left on your list without a checkmark? (These would be the activities that you feel you must do, but don't really enjoy doing)

- Ask yourself why you don't enjoy some of the activities. (Expensive, time-consuming, exhausting, etc.)

- Ask yourself, "Why am I doing this particular activity. Is it because someone expects me to do this? Is it to please my family or myself? Do I do this to 'keep up' with neighbors and friends?"

- After doing this self-inventory, it is time to involve the whole family. Ask yourself, "What do I really value most about the holidays? What is most important to me?" If you are married, ask your spouse the same questions. Ask your children what they consider most important about the season. You may be surprised to learn of your family's priorities! They may like simpler celebrations better!

- Now, what can you do to lessen the holiday stress this year? Look at your family's suggestions. Are there some activities that can be eliminated or scaled down? How do you and your family really want to observe the holiday season?

If making things simpler is a need, keep these tips in mind. Remember to focus on the true meaning of the holiday. Remind yourself and your family of the "reason for the season."

Don't over commit to holiday functions. Decide ahead those activities in which you will participate. Be firm in your commitment not to over commit!

Set aside special time with your family for playing games, reading stories and maybe making some old-fashioned "holiday" treats together. Lower your expectations. Everything does not have to be perfect! Cookie baking with children can be much less stressful if you don't expect each cookie to look like it came from the bakery! Let young children make ready to bake refrigerated cookies and decorate with "store-bought" icing and sprinkles. "Homemade" doesn't necessarily have to be made from "scratch!"

Before overspending your budget this year or maxing out your credit cards, make a list of all the gifts you need to buy. Set up a realistic spending plan for gifts, decorating, entertaining, etc. Stick to the spending plan!

It is much better to spend less in November and December than to have large credit card bills to pay off next year.

Bluegrass master Ricky Skaggs plays Casino Magic Bay St. Louis

Ricky Skaggs

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Bluegrass musician Ricky Skaggs and his band Kentucky Thunder are set to perform two shows at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on January 14th and 15th at 9 p.m. A professional musician for 30 years, this eight-time Grammy Award winner continues to do his part to lead the recent roots revival in music with five consecutive Grammy nominated albums.

Tickets for these performances are on sale now for $14.95, $19.95 or $24.95 at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet.

Skaggs, now 50, was born in eastern Kentucky and was already an accomplished singer and mandolin player by the time he reached his teens. In the late '70s, Skaggs turned his attention to country music. Though still in his twenties, the wealth of experience and talent he possessed served him well, first as a member of Emmylou Harris' Hot Band and later as an individual recording artist. With the release of Waiting For the Sun To Shine in 1981, Skaggs reached the top of the country charts, and remained there throughout most of the 1980s. As his popularity soared, he garnered eight awards from the Country Music Association, four Grammy Awards and Don't miss Ricky Skaggs, January 14th & 15th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be at least 21 to attend.

Russo prays some kids will get 'A Home for the Holidays'

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Rene Russo is feeling a little under the weather, a fact she announces up front when she calls to talk about "A Home for the Holidays," premiering Wednesday, Dec. 22, on CBS.

"It's just that I usually have a lot more energy than this, and I didn't want you to think it was lack of enthusiasm," she says. "There are so many good causes out there that you have to kind of pick and choose, but giving children a good home life is just something that is very important to me."

The actress is a frequent participant in the annual CBS holiday special celebrating the joys of adoption. This year, she joins Jamie Lee Curtis, Bruce Willis and host Jamie Foxx for an hour that combines powerhouse musical performances by artists including Black Eyed Peas, Train and Rod Stewart with moving stories about adoption in an effort to raise awareness of this urgent social issue.

"All these amazing children with huge potential are just sitting in homes waiting for someone to adopt them," Russo says. "This show is a great way to get the word out there."

The actress herself suffered some hard knocks growing up with a struggling single mom after her father abandoned the family when she was 2, but she's painfully aware that many kids have it even worse.

"I have one friend who was in and out of foster care from the time he was a little kid, and it was horrible," she explains. "Especially back then, there were people totally unsuitable who were taking in kids strictly because they were paid to do it. There was so little supervision, no accountability."

"My friend, Charles, was given different food than other people in the family. And the kids just go from family to family, with no stability. He has had a lot of issues to deal with. Ultimately, he turned to God and became a Christian, but even so, he has had a lot of things to work through."

"I hope that if parents are thinking of adopting, they'll consider one of these kids, if they have a gift for it," Russo says. "It's so powerful seeing these wonderful families brought together."

Lisa Edelstein

"Cuddy is the dean of medicine," Edelstein says, "which means that she is such a spectacular doctor that she was able to get grant after grant after grant for work that she was doing personally, until she got to the point where she was making so much money for her hospital that they made her dean of medicine. It's a big job."

Edelstein also gets the chance to don an elegant business wardrobe. "My clothes are phenomenal. I really have the best wardrobe. It's suits tailored to my body, beautiful shirts. (Cuddy) definitely has a specific style that's not my personal style, but it's so beautiful I'm glad I have a venue to wear those clothes."

She also gets to show off executive attitude, especially in scenes where Cuddy has to manage her most troublesome employee.

"She is responsible for getting House to this hospital," Edelstein says, "and greatly admires him and thinks he's a brilliant doctor. He is, however, extremely difficult to handle, to wrangle, to herd."

In the new Fox medical drama "House," airing Tuesdays, Lisa Edelstein plays Dr. Lisa Cuddy, the dean of medicine at an urban teaching hospital that also employs irascible but brilliant Dr. Gregory House (Hugh Laurie), with whom she has a contentious relationship.

As to whether those sparks may kindle a romance, Edelstein demurs, "What do I know? I don't know anything."

Not that she'd object to a little amorous action, of course. "Absolutely not. Hugh's so handsome, and he's so charming and funny. Of course, he's married with three kids."

Edelstein's wide variety of roles, includes a lovelorn lesbian on "Relativity," a transsexual on "Ally McBeal" and a high-priced call girl in the first season of "The West Wing." Now she's playing a high-powered, talented doctor in an executive position.

Born: May 21, 1967, in Boston, Mass.

TV cred: She's starred in some short-lived series such as "Relativity" and "Leap of Faith" and had guest roles on "Mad About You," "Seinfeld," "The Larry Sanders Show," "Frasier," "The West Wing," "Ally McBeal," "Felicity," "The Practice" and "Without a Trace."

Voice cred: Edelstein also does animation voices, playing Mercy Graves in "Superman: The New Batman/Superman Adventures" and "The Batman/Superman Movie." She also voiced Crystal Steele in the "Blade Runner" video game.

HOROSCOPE

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Dec. 19 through Dec. 25, 2004

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

When it rains, it pours, and that's how you'll feel soon. You will have the energy to tackle it all.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

When you want something, you tend to be impatient. This time, you need to consult a partner.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Be careful of getting into pointless arguments with loved ones. It won't solve the problem.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

You have a lot of pent-up energy that's manifesting itself in unhealthy ways. Try a better outlet.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Finally, you are ready to move on that project that's been biling at you. Use all the resources you can.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

There's no reason to force people at home to do things your way. To each his own.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

You'll be talking up a storm while you share your ideas. Find people who will listen.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

You can look at it two ways: saving for bigger and better, or satisfying that urge now.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

You'll feel rejuvenated and ready to take over the world. Find someone who feels the same.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

Keeping things to yourself will make you anxious and worn out. It's not so bad that you can't spill the beans.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Holidays are the times to let your social nature shine. This year, you'll feel particularly animated.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

An opportunity to shine on the job comes your way, and you might not even know it. Do what you do best.

"NFL Football" Sunday, Dec. 19

(ESPN, 8:30 p.m. ET): At the rate Colts quarterback Peyton Manning has been tossing touchdown passes, he may already own the single-season record by the time the Ravens visit tonight. After 11 games, Manning had thrown for 41 scores, putting him on pace to shatter Dan Marino's 1984 record of 48. Manning shreds average defenses, but he won't get that chance against a stiff Ravens unit led by safety Ed Reed, whose ball-hawking skills are among the NFL's best.

"NFL Football" Friday, Dec. 24

(Fox, 3 p.m. ET): Just like the November shootout between Green Bay and Minnesota, the NFC North title could be decided today by who has the ball last. Green Bay did in that game, thanks to a disputed fumble recovery that led to the winning field goal as time expired. Before Ben Steele snatched the ball away from Derek Ross, quarterbacks Brett Favre and Daunte Culpepper put on an aerial show with four touchdown passes each, the 18th time Favre has done that.

"NFL Football" Saturday, Dec. 25

(ESPN, 8:30 p.m. ET): It hasn't been a holly, jolly Christmas season - at least at work - for Tennessee Titans quarterback Steve McNair. Battered, bruised and betrayed to some extent by ineffective teammates, McNair hinted recently that this season could be his last. His frustration may mount today against the Denver Broncos, who need every win they can get in the tight AFC playoff race. Jake Plummer's passing and the rushing of Reuben Droughns fuel the Broncos potent offense.

Edgerrin James and the Indianapolis Colts host the Baltimore Ravens Sunday on ESPN.

Many happy returns: A second chance at holiday faves

By Sharla Elkin-Ives
© Zap2it

The week before Christmas abounds with opportunities to catch repeats of the holiday TV treats whose original airings you missed while working or shopping for presents. To enhance your viewing experience, we've included suggestions for accessories to have on hand while you watch.

"Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" (Sunday, Dec. 19, and Friday, Dec. 24, ABC Family Channel): The annual classic focuses on Kriss Kringle and his forgiveness of the stingy Burgermeister Meisterburger. Warm Fuzzy: The cranky person down the street just wants to be loved. Accessories: A yo-yo and a penguin.

"Was the Night Before Christmas" (Sunday and Friday, ABC Family): A family of animated mice tries to placate Santa after one of his members offends the Jolly One by disbelieving. Warm Fuzzy: All creatures can live in peace. Accessories: Cheddar cheese and Ritz crackers.

"Nestor the Long-Eared Christmas Donkey" (Monday, Dec. 20, ABC Family): A donkey delivers a pregnant Mary to Bethlehem - to deliver. Warm Fuzzy: Even the most unlikely creature has great potential. Accessories: Hay, popcorn and a shining star.

"Eloise at Christmastime" (Tuesday, Dec. 21, ABC Family): The hyperactive little girl (Sofia Vassilieva) makes the best of a holiday spent with Nanny (Julie Andrews). Warm Fuzzy: Everything will turn out all right in the end. Accessories: Tranquilizer darts.

"Prancer" (Thursday, Dec. 23, ABC Family): A reindeer is discovered and cared for by a lonely girl. Warm Fuzzy: A girl and her pet, whom she must let go for the good of all. Accessories: Reindeer feed and identification tag.

"The Bishop's Wife" (1937) (Thursday, Turner Classic Movies): An all-too-human angel tries to help repair a marriage. Warm Fuzzy: Love conquers all. Accessories: Forgiveness and forbearance.

"A Christmas Carol" (1938) (Thursday, TCM): One of the earlier treatments of the Charles Dickens novel about a skinflint who redeems himself after being visited by ghosts. Warm Fuzzy: All is not lost. Accessories: Black top hat, cane, proper British accent, snow and no source of heat.

"A Christmas Carol: The Musical" (Friday, NBC): A musical rendition of the classic tale. Warm Fuzzy: Anything can make it as a musical. Accessory: Suspended disbelief.

"Christmas in Connecticut" (Friday, TCM): An urbanite magazine columnist pretends to be the ultimate homemaker for a soldier on leave. Warm Fuzzy: Nothing can stand in the way of true love. Accessories: A one-horse open sleigh, cows and women's magazines.

"Christmas With the Mormon Tabernacle Choir" (Friday, PBS - check local listings): Holiday and religious music performed by a professional choir. Warm Fuzzy: Music lifts the heavy heart. Accessories: Bathrobe or school graduation robe, holiday songbook and a ruler for good posture.

"It's a Very Merry Muppet Christmas Movie" (Friday, Hallmark Channel): Kermit and the gang need to come up with a bundle of cash to avoid foreclosure on their theater. Warm Fuzzy: You're never poor if you have good friends. Accessory: An 8-by-10 photo of Jim Henson surrounded by incense and candles.

"Miracle on 34th Street" (1947) (Friday, AMC): A world-wise little girl and her mother receive a visit from St. Nick, who needs help proving his identity in court. Warm Fuzzy: Belief is a powerful force. Accessories: Santa suit, precocious child and lawbooks.

"A Christmas Story" (Saturday, Dec. 25, TBS): A boy tries to survive bullies, his odd family and life in general during the winter season. Warm Fuzzy: Surviving childhood is possible. Accessories: Oversized scarf, ice cube to stick your tongue on, list of old wives' tales; and Mom's phone number so she can say, "I told you so."

"It's a Wonderful Life" (Saturday, NBC): An angel shows a suicidal man how his loved ones would have lived if he had never existed. Warm Fuzzy: You do mean something to this world. Accessories: Cardigan sweater, a list of family and friends' phone numbers, a cherished photo album, and two boxes of tissues - the extra-large kind.

"The Sound of Music" (Saturday, ABC): A nanny and her employer fall in love as they try to get his kids out of the country without being captured by Nazis. Warm Fuzzy: Stick together and everything will be fine. Accessories: A passel of children, a place to hide and a pastoral picture so you can envision the hills being alive.

Yes, you have to sit through commercials. No, you can't pause the action. But isn't it nice to know that thousands of people are watching the exact same thing all over the country? Peace.

Still 'Mad About' former sitcom co-stars

By Jay Bobbin

Q ■ What are Paul Reiser and Helen Hunt doing these days? Since "Mad About You" ended, they seem to have just disappeared from the scene. -Betty Smith, Atlanta.

A ■ Reiser wrote and co-produced the just-aired, commercial "Popeye's Voyage: The Quest for Pappy." He's also the writer, co-producer and star of the upcoming feature "The Thing About My Folks," in which Peter Falk and Olympia Dukakis play his parents.

Oscar winner Hunt became a first-time mom in May, having a daughter with writer-producer Matthew Carnahan ("Fastlane"). She'll soon be seen in a movie version of the Oscar Wilde play "A Good Woman." On the home screen, she'll appear in HBO's "Empire Falls" with Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Ed Harris, Robin Wright Penn and Aidan Quinn.

Helen Hunt and Paul Reiser.

Q ■ Please tell me if FX will be returning "The Shield" to its lineup. -Terry Frederick, York, Pa.

A ■ It will indeed, and with quite an impressive addition to its cast. The gritty police drama is tentatively set to begin its fourth season in March, and Vic Mackey (Emmy winner Michael Chiklis) and his colleagues will have quite a formidable new boss. We know this because the part will be played by Glenn Close, in her first-ever turn as a series regular.

Q ■ I'm a fan of "City Confidential." Paul Winfield's sardonic style as a commentator makes the show unique. I'd like to know more about him. -M. McCanney, Largo, Fla.

A ■ Although A&E Network continues to run episodes voiced by the "Sounder" star, who won an Emmy for a "Pick-et Fences" guest appearance, we're sad to report he died in March of a heart attack at age 62.

Soap Talk

Soap stars share their traditions

Kristian Alfonso

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

In Genoa City, Katherine Chancellor throws her annual Christmas party, while over in Salem, the clan gathers at Alfie's to decorate her Christmas tree with the famous Horton ornaments. Just as the characters on daytime celebrate holiday traditions, so do the stars who play them.

Kristian Alfonso (Hope, "Days of Our Lives"): "The most important holiday tradition I have is celebrating with my family, no matter where we are. Family is the singularly most important element."

Farah Fath (Mimi, "Days"): "Eating at the kids table with my five cousins! We just laugh the whole time and drink chocolate milk!"

Lisa Rinna ("SoapTalk"): "One of my favorite traditions is making Toll House cookies and setting out milk and cookies for Santa."

Kim Johnston Ulrich (Ivy, "Passions"): "We always buy matching pajamas and give them on Christmas Eve. On Christmas morning, we all have breakfast and open our stockings in our new pajamas. I started this tradition."

Amelia Marshall (Liz, "Passions"): "My mom and I sit at the piano and sing Christmas carols while the rest of the family sits around and rolls their eyes when we hit the wrong note. It's all in good fun."

Tom Pelphrey (Jonathan, "Guiding Light"): For Christmas Eve, my brother and my mom come to my house. Usually, Christmas dinner is at my grandmother's."

Eva Tamiago (Pilar, "Passions"): "Every year at New Year's as midnight strikes, we eat 12 grapes for good luck for the coming year. It's a tradition I hope my kids will follow."

Dear Paulette: What happened to Lisa and Hal on "As the World Turns"? -via e-mail.

Dear Reader: I think you are referring to the fact that different actors were playing the roles. Lisa was temporarily recast when Eileen Fulton was in the hospital. Carmen Duncan (ex-Iris, "Another World") stepped in but, as I am sure you know, Eileen is back and doing well. Benjamin Hendrickson, who played Hal for close to 20 years, chose not to renew his contract when it was up this past summer, so the role was recast with Randolph Mantooth, who had filled in a couple of years ago.

Family Best Bets

Sunday 5 p.m. and FAM Movie: Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone Director Chris Columbus' blockbuster 2001 version of the internationally popular J.K. Rowling story features Daniel Radcliffe as Harry, the young wizard in training. He finds himself the target of an unknown enemy while being schooled in the use of magic at Hogwarts. Rupert Grint and Emma Watson play Harry's young comrades. The expert supporting cast includes Robbie Coltrane, Alan Rickman, Maggie Smith and Richard Harris.	Friday 7 a.m. and AMC Movie: Miracle on 34th Street In this 1947 classic, Edmund Gwenn stars as a Macy's Santa who gets into trouble when he claims he's the real Kris Kringle. In a city full of imposters, he finds no one — not even a little girl (Natalie Wood) — willing to believe in him. With skeptics ridiculing him at every turn, Kringle has no choice but to take his case to court. Only one young lawyer has enough faith to defend him. Maureen O'Hara and John Payne also star in the Academy Award winner.	2 p.m. on BRAV Movie: Gandhi This 1982 film garnered eight Academy Awards on its way to becoming one of the most respected films of all time. Richard Attenborough, who took home the Oscar for best director, weaves the incredible story of Mahatma Gandhi, the lawyer and pacifist who led India to independence. Candice Bergen, Edward Fox, John Gielgud and Martin Sheen star alongside Ben Kingsley, whose powerful performance in the title role won him the Oscar for best actor.
Monday 7 p.m. and DSC Movie: Monster House In a holiday-themed episode that had some viewers cringing at the results, "Christmas House" was not all the owners thought it would be. This episode revisits the homeowners after the shock of an indoor ice-skating rink, which did not slide well with their dogs, and a small-scale replica of London had slightly worn off. With their house no longer looking like a high-school prop department, the owners let loose.	9 a.m. on HALL Movie: It's a Very Merry Muppet Christmas Movie Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy and company mark the holiday season with a TV movie that borrows the theme of "It's a Wonderful Life." A banker (Joan Cusack) plans to tear down the Muppet Theater and build a nightclub, but Kermit tries to talk her out of it with help from a novice angel and his supervisor (David Arquette, Whoopi Goldberg). William H. Macy, Carson Daly, Kelly Ripa and the "Scrubs" cast have cameos.	Saturday 7 a.m. on USA Movie: The Majestic The often-maniac Jim Carrey continued his efforts to broaden his screen image in director Frank Darabont's ("The Green Mile") gentle 2001 drama about a screenwriter whose career is impacted by the 1950s Hollywood blacklist. Left amnesiac by a car crash, he then wanders into a town where the locals believe him to be a long-lost war hero. Laurie Holden ("The X-Files") and Martin Landau co-star.

TV Trivia

Michael Jeter ("Mrs. Santa Claus") originally studied medicine at Memphis State University and once worked as a legal secretary.

S.Z. Sakall ("Christmas in Connecticut") began his showbiz career as a vaudeville sketch writer in Budapest, Hungary.

Christopher Plummer ("The Sound of Music") won Tony Awards for his performances in "Cyrano" and "Barrymore."

Claran Hinds ("Calendar Girls") made his acting debut as the hind end of a horse in a production of "Cinderella."

Malcolm McDowell ("The Company") sold coffee before joining the Royal Shakespeare Company in the 1960s.

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE™ by David L. Hoyt

Use the clues to help unscramble the four jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four words.

12-19-04

Clue: J.K. role
NCQIYU

Clue: Alice Hyatt's home
HINOEXP

Clue: Event structure
TUSIDMA

Clue: Mickey D., for example
REMMDU

Bonus

Then arrange the circled letters to form the bonus answer, as suggested by the above.

Answer to 12/12/2004: Jumble's WEBSTER LISTINGS CHILDREN MAKEOVER
Bonus: This actor studied political science before enrolling at Julliard to study theater. ROBIN WILLIAMS

Monday Best Bets

7:30 p.m. on 54-UPN
Half & Half

A jealous, Dee Dee (Essence Atkins) blabs to the fiancée of an old flame that she and the groom-to-be were once an item, causing the bride to cancel the wedding. Phyllis and Big Dee Dee (Telma Hopkins, Valerie Pettiford) meet up at a funeral, where they discover they both dated the deceased. Rachel True also stars in "The Big One Wedding and a Funeral Episode."

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
NFL Football

An undefeated November provided the latest proof of the New England Patriots' personnel-picking excellence. Their injury-ravaged secondary didn't miss a beat, even though it was manned much of the time by three former practice squad players — Randall Gay, Omare Lowe and Earthwind Moreland — and wide receiver Troy Brown. Whatever the patchwork lineup the Pats field tonight in Miami should be more than enough to defeat the woeful Dolphins.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Everybody Loves Raymond

Ray (Ray Romano) thinks he's finally thought of a Christmas gift that Frank and Marie (Peter Boyle, Doris Roberts) will like: a family portrait. Piece of cake, right? Not when your wife (Patricia Heaton) and your mom have very different ideas about who qualifies as family. Robert Culp and Katherine Helmond guest star in "The Christmas Picture."

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Las Vegas

Alec Baldwin guest stars as one of Ed's (J. J. Abrams) former CIA colleagues, who wants to sell the Montecito a security system, in "Hellraisers."

and Heartbreakers." The timing seems unusually opportune, since a guest at the resort taps into its computers. Mary (Nikki Cox) keeps watch over a comedian, fearing his performance will be overly lewd. Country-music artists Brooks & Dunn also guest star.

8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS

Two and a Half Men

Charlie (Charlie Sheen) gets friendly — very friendly — with Jake's (Angus T. Jones) teacher in an effort to keep him from being suspended. When Jake finds out, however, he doesn't want to go to school. So Charlie breaks it off, but she's not happy about that and takes her ill will out on both him and Jake. Kiersten Warren guest stars in "A Bag Full of Jawaa."

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
My Wife and Kids
 Ever expect to see Wayne Newton and the Rev. Al Sharpton on the same show? They're guest stars — along with sports legend Michael Jordan — in the two-part story "Fantasy Camp." Michael (Damon Wayans) gets a very special trip as a gift from Jay (Tisha Campbell-Martin) — to the Las Vegas basketball camp run by Jordan. The rest of the family goes along, too. Part 2 airs Dec. 28.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
The Biggest Loser
 The new episode "A Look Back: Special" showcases some funny stuff from the series' first eight episodes. The hour includes bloopers, previously unaired footage of departing contestants' exit interviews, and diet cheaters caught on tape. Caroline Rhea hosts.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS
Nova
 Einstein had his ideas, but there may be an even larger theory explaining absolutely everything that happens in the world. Columbia University physics and mathematics professor Brian Greene seeks that rationale in the two-hour "The Elegant Universe." Many of his theories sound right out of "Star Trek," involving hidden dimensions and rips in the fabric of space, but those are merely the beginning.

7 p.m. on 49-PAX
Mission Space Special
 This new hourlong special is part history lesson and part travelogue, celebrating the 34th anniversary of the Apollo 8 mission and giving viewers a tour of the Mission: Space ride at Walt Disney World's EPCOT Center, which takes visitors on a virtual ride to Mars. Astronauts Wally Schirra, C. Gordon Fullerton, Pamela Ann Melroy and others make appearances. LeVar Burton is the host.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
George Lopez
 Some serious matters fuel "George Searches for a Needle in a Haystack." George and Vic (George Lopez, Emiliano Diaz) comb the Haight-Ashbury district for runaway Carmen (Masiela Lusha) — and find her tailing rap star

Chingy (who guest stars as himself) as a groupie. Comedian Carrot Top also guest stars in dream sequences.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS
The 27th Annual Kennedy Center Honors
 Caroline Kennedy hosts this annual event honoring top artists with one of the nation's most prestigious prizes. This year's recipients are actor Warren Beatty, opera singer Joan Sutherland, pop icon Elton John, husband and wife actors Orestis Orestis and Ruby Dee, and composer John Williams. The ceremony includes tributes to the honorees by a variety of stars.

8:30 p.m. on 6-NBC
Scrubs
 An attitude change for the worse makes new chief resident J.D. (Zach Braff) unappealing to his hospital co-workers — particularly Turk (Donald Faison) — in "My New Game." J.D.'s relationship with Elliot (Sarah Chalke) also suffers over his new position. Dr. Cox and Jordan (John C. McGinley, Christina Milner) are

9 p.m. on 26-ABC
NYPD Blue
 Monogamy equals monotony — and murder — for the men under police scrutiny in the new episode "I Love My Wives But Oh You Kid." Ortiz and Murphy (Jacqueline Obradors, Bonnie Somerville) investigate when the lover of a man with two wives turns up dead. Sipowicz and Clark (Dennis Franz, Mark-Paul Gosselaar) try to solve the murder of a prostitute-turned-kept woman whose keeper is also married.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Law & Order: Special Victims Unit
 Lea Thompson, guest stars in "Birthright," playing the woman behind the attempted Central Park abduction of a girl (guest star Abigail Breslin, "Raising Helen") who she claims is her daughter. As Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) try to determine the truth, their investigation leads them to a fertility doctor. Tamara Tunie also guest stars.

December 19 - 25, 2004

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

A Home for the Holidays 2004

Actor Jamie Foxx hosts this year's edition of the special with a cause: finding homes for children. As usual, musical performances are interspersed with stories from and about adoptive families and children waiting for them. The musical lineup includes Train, Black Eyed Peas, Rod Stewart, Chaka Khan, Ashlee Simpson and Kenny G. Actors Rene Russo, Jamie Lee Curtis and Bruce Willis also appear.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
Will & Grace

In "Queens for a Day" Will (Eric McCormack) offers to make Thanksgiving dinner after an injury sidelines Vince's (Bobby Cannavale) mom, but it turns out to be a thankless job. Vince's sister (guest star Jamie-Lynn DiScala, "The Sopranos") has a secret, and Jack (Sean Hayes) gives her some advice on how to keep it.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

Christmas With the Mormon Tabernacle Choir

Santa, Rudolph, Frosty et al. have their place, but sometimes we want to hear some carols. This new concert special has plenty, as mezzo-soprano Frederica von Stade and baritone Bryn Terfel join America's most famous church choir for an hour of traditional favorites. There are secular songs, too, as well as holiday classics from around the world. Terfel does a reading of the Christmas story from the book of Luke.

7 p.m. and DSC
The Ice Hotel

for a cool place

Looking for a cool place to chill out on your next vacation? Consider a visit to the Swedish hotel featured in this new special. It's made entirely from ice and snow and must be rebuilt every year after the warm weather does its work: How do they heat it, anyway? And ice is pretty transparent; what about privacy? For the answers to these and other questions, tune in.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
The West Wing

Christmas gives the president (Martin Sheen) mixed emotions in 'Abu el Banat.' Happy to be visited by his daughters (guest stars Elisabeth Moss, Nina Siemaszko and Annabeth Gish), he worries about relief workers imprisoned in northern Sudan. He also learns of his son-in-law's (guest star Steven Eckholdt) political plans. Toby and Will (Richard Schiff, Joshua Malina) clash on the assisted-suicide issue.

8 p.m. and DSC

made a list and you:

They made a list and you checked it twice. Now you'll get what you asked for, because you're so nice. In this new "Holiday Special" edition of the popular reality series, hosts Adam Savage and Jamie Hyndeman revisit the urban legends most requested by viewers via an online poll. And since it's that time of year, they just might look at a few holiday-themed legends as well.

8 p.m. on TNN

Movie: The Godfather

Movie: The Godfather
This 1972 Academy Award-winning drama stars Marlon Brando as Don Vito Corleone, the head of a powerful New York Mafia family. When an attempt is made on Don Vito's life, his son, Michael (Al Pacino), steps into his father's shoes. The movie also stars James Caan, Robert Duvall, Diane Keaton and Talia Shire.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: NY

There are 70 million rats in New York City, and Mac and Aiden (Gary Sinise, Vanessa Ferlito) need to find one of them — the one that bit a murdered drug dealer and might have swallowed the bullet. Stella (Melina Kanakaredes) has an equally frustrating case: a rape in Central Park that left the victim with no memory of the attack.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Jerry Orbach, the cast member who was with this show the longest, prepared to move on in "C.O.D." Briscoe (Orbach) tackles his last case with Green (Jesse L. Martin) — who is stunned by his partner's unexpected decision — as they investigate the murder of a deliveryman.

2 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

NFL Football
Just like the November shootout between Green Bay and Minnesota, the NFC North title could be decided today by who has the ball last. Green Bay did in that game, thanks to a disputed fumble recovery that led to the winning field goal as time expired. Before Ben Steele snatched the ball away from Derek Ross, quarterbacks Brett Favre and Daunte Culpepper put on an aerial show with four touchdown passes each, the 18th time Favre has done that.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Movie: The Adventures of Rocky and Bullwinkle
Look, Boris, is moose and squirrel. The cartoon duo from Frostbite Falls comes out of retirement and into the unanimated world to foil the latest evil scheme from Boris, Natasha and their Fearless Leader (Jason Alexander, Rene Russo, Robert De Niro). This 2000 part-animated, part-live comedy boasts an amazing array of stars in cameo and supporting roles, including Jonathan Winters, Whoopi Goldberg, Randy Quaid and Billy Crystal.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN

Movie: The Best Man
Taye Diggs ("Kevin-Hill") stars in this 1999 romantic comedy about two friends from college, who reunite at a wedding. Nia Long ("Soul Food") plays the woman who wants to explore her feelings for him, which were never fulfilled in college. He wants to keep his one-night stand with the bride a secret, at least until after the wedding. Morris Chestnut also stars.

7 p.m. and TBS

Movie: A Christmas Story
Ralphie (Peter Billingsley) yearns to find a Red Ryder BB gun under the Christmas tree. Not just a Christmas story, this also is about parents, little brothers, bullies, secret decoder rings, double dog dares — and the inner workings of a young mind. Jean Shepherd's writing captures it all perfectly. Darren McGavin and Melinda Dillon also star in the 1983 comedy as it begins its now-traditional 24-hour holiday marathon.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: I'll Be Home for Christmas
The title of this 1998 Disney comedy indicates where the college student played by Jonathan Taylor Thomas ("Home Improvement") hopes he'll be, anyway. He'll get a flashy car from his father if he makes it home in time for the holiday. Campus pranksters have something else in mind for him, and he ends up stranded far from where the home fires are burning. Jessica Biel ("7th Heaven") co-stars as his girlfriend.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

JAG
Turner (Scott Lawrence) is accused of costing the Navy some important intelligence.

gence because of racial bias. Harm (David James Elliott) gets the job of defending him, while in the meantime working on a legal matter of his own: petitioning for custody of Mattie Grace (Hallee Hirsh). Coates (Zoe McLellan) tries to engineer some holiday magic for Chegidden and Sims (John M. Jackson, Karri Turner) in "A Merry Little Christmas."

11:35 p.m. on 6-NBC

Christmas Eve at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome
At this writing, Pope John Paul was planning to celebrate mid-night Christmas Mass, although his health has been so fragile of late that many wonder if he'll be up to it. With or without His Holiness, however, there is something special about this annual service from the stunning St. Peter's Basilica, which has become a holiday tradition in many homes.

Saturday Best Bets

12 p.m. on 28-ABC on 13-ABC
Walt Disney World Christmas Day
Parade

Mickey and the gang march down Main Street, U.S.A., in this annual event from Orlando, Fla. Regis Philbin and Kelly Ripa host the telecast, which includes music by Ashanti, Wyclef Jean, and Ruben Studdard and Diana DeGarmo of "American Idol" fame. Actress Eva Longoria is also scheduled to appear, hopefully wearing more than her "Desperate Housewives" co-star Nicolette Sheridan had on during that Monday Night Football incident last month.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: My Dog Skip

Frankie Muniz ("Malcolm in the Middle") stars as a quiet boy in 1940s Mississippi who discovers a lifelong friend when his parents (Kevin Bacon, Diane Lane) give him a Jack Russell terrier puppy for his ninth birthday. As World War II looms in the background, boys best friend warms the hearts of the small town's residents and a lonely child. This 2000 drama is based on the childhood memoir of Willie Morris. Harry Connick Jr. provides narration.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Movie: It's a Wonderful Life

James Stewart stars in this 1946 film as a banker who believes he is a failure. On Christmas Eve he decides to end his life, but is stopped by an angel (Henry Travers) who shows him how many people he has touched. Directed by Frank Capra, the movie also stars Donna Reed and Lionel Barrymore.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Welcome to Mooseport

And you thought the Bush-Kerry battle was intense? Gene Hackman stars in this 2004 comedy from last spring as a former U.S.

president who is asked to replace his hometown's late mayor. He agrees, not knowing that he has competition from a mild-mannered plumber (Ray Romano), who's willing to step aside — until the ex-prez moves in on his girl (Maura Tierney). Christine Baranski, Fred Savage, Marcia Gay Harden and Rip Torn also star.

7:30 p.m. on ESPN

NFL Football

It hasn't been a holy, jolly Christmas season — at least at work — for Tennessee Titans quarterback Steve McNair. Battered, bruised and betrayed to some extent by ineffective teammates, McNair hinted recently that this season could be his last. His frustration may mount today against the Denver Broncos, who need every win they can get in the tight AFC playoff race.
